

GOVERNOR DECLARES "BIG THING" AS DONE AND FIGHT AS OVER

ASSEMBLY NOW CONSIDERS ALIEN BILL

Progressive Substitute May Complicate Matter For This Session

JAPS RUSH TO CAPITAL TO SECURE LAND DEEDS

Emergency Clause Demanded If Bill Passes—Constitution Was Suspended

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—In an exclusive statement to the United Press Governor Johnson today declared the state administration was acting in behalf of the California farmers, many of whom have leased their land to the Japanese, when it incorporated the Boynton lease amendment in the anti-alien bill. He said the federal administration was not responsible for the amendment and denied that the state administration has receded from its first position. He declared the entire object of anti-alien legislation is accomplished.

[By Governor Hiram Johnson] We have accomplished the big thing. We have prevented the Japanese from driving the roots of their civilization deep in California's soil. There has not been an inch of recession by the senate. The three-year leasing clause was included in the interests of our own people to give them time to adjust their affairs and readjust themselves to new conditions. The big thing in California set out to do is done without swerving. I resent the implication that there has been backing down or trimming with the situation because of any influence whatsoever. In all the representations made by President Wilson or Secretary Bryan not one word or line was uttered or written concerning the lease of lands. The attitude of the national administration was not made known on this phase of the question. Every bill introduced on this subject contained leasing provisions for one to fifteen years. For the first time California is standing firm for what is our right and we mean to have it. The big thing is done. The vital step necessary to prevent the encroachment of aliens upon the land and the planting of their standards of civilization on California soil has been taken.

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—When the Webb anti-alien measure came up in special order at 2 o'clock Chandler, the Progressive leader, was expected to have ready for introduction from the house committee an alien bill which has already passed the house and which is known to be preferable to Bryan. As Chandler has modified the measure it contains a one-year period in which aliens may own land and provides for five-year lease-holds. After a conference with Progressives and Democrats he struck out the words "ineligible to citizenship." While the measure did not have the endorsement of the entire assembly Progressive element, it was promised considerable support, throwing doubt over the final disposition of the whole affair by the legislature.

News that aliens all over the state are rushing to Sacramento to secure deeds to California land has caused many legislators to demand immediate action on the Webb bill.

Talk of an emergency clause making the bill immediately effective upon its passage is heard on all sides. Sacramento county alone issued deeds to ten Japanese and ten Hindus today.

BRYAN TO LEAVE BUT HOUSE WENT ON WITH BUSINESS
SACRAMENTO, May 3.—After a half hour's debate on the floor it was decided to bring the anti-alien bill to the consideration of the assembly at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The state constitution which provides that bills must be read on three different days, must be suspended for this purpose.

It was announced this afternoon that Secretary Bryan will depart at 5 o'clock for Washington via Los Angeles. The Secretary said he would address both houses in an open meeting at 3 o'clock. The assembly leaders stated that the Secretary's departure would have no effect on their consideration of the anti-alien bill scheduled at 2 o'clock, but the assembly will probably declare recess at this time.

Naturalization Law Joker May Void Anti-Alien Legislation

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Speaking as a "lawyer and private citizen," Vice President Marshall told the United Press today that he has discovered a joker in the federal naturalization laws which may draw the teeth of California anti-alien legislation. The inference was that in case the California matter goes to the supreme court, Asians may be declared eligible to citizenship. He said: "The lower courts have held that all Asians are ineligible to naturalization but the supreme court has never approved of that construction of the law. It might be overturned, thus thwarting the purpose of the proposed California law. It might be well to consider this."

"HUNDRED YEARS OF ANGLO SAXON PEACE" TALKED OF

Peace Congress Closes Tonight—David Starr Jordan to Make Address

ST. LOUIS, May 3.—That Canada and the United States have set the world an example of a new kind of international relation that has proved unqualifiedly successful and has greatly benefited both countries, was the declaration today of John Lewis, editor of the Toronto Star, in an address before the third and closing session of the Fourth American Peace Congress. The Canadian editor pointed to the fact that Canadian and United States disputes "far more serious than those which have led other nations into disastrous war, have been settled to the satisfaction of both countries by arbitration." The reason he assigned was that the governments of the two countries "have been busy industrially, with no time for war and its terrors." He pleaded for an establishment of the same republic of Ontario, and Justice William Renwick Riddell, of the supreme court of Ontario, and Justice B. Russell, of Halifax, spoke on "One Hundred Years of Anglo-American Peace."

Sectional meetings dealing with "Challenge," "Scientists and International Law," "The Militarist's Challenge," "Scientists and International Peace," and "Relations of Business to International Peace," occupied the first two hours of the afternoon session. The Congress closes tonight with addresses by President David Starr Jordan, of Leland Stanford University; Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and a second address by Secretary Bryan.

SQUATTERS FILING ON EL TORO LANDS

Declaring that there is a lot of land at El Toro to which the government has never given title, squatters have filed on some 800 or more acres at El Toro. The land lies between the main through road and the Santa Fe railroad, running south from the Irvine line, and includes lands that are owned by a dozen or more people, including Juan Gless, Capt. Huddy, Mrs. Perkins, Swartz and the Episcopal church. About two years ago some surveyors made a mysterious survey in that place. A few days ago surveyors began going over the land again, and several tents have been pitched here and there. The information at El Toro is that the property has just been filed upon as government ground. Local squatters have been aware of the contentions for sometime, but think there is nothing in them that promise any success to the homesteaders. One of them says that an old description failed to be completed, but a later government survey checked out that particular portion of the Whiting ranch exactly. The property sought to be contested is the west portion of the Rancho Canada de Los Alisos, and that not now owned by Mrs. Perkins was deeded to others twenty years ago by her husband, Dwight Whiting, now dead.

"It Is up to You to Make Good" Said Occidental College Pres. in Splendid Address Yesterday

The cornerstone of Santa Ana's magnificent $200,000 polytechnic high school was laid yesterday afternoon. It was an occasion of general rejoicing and the expressions of satisfaction came not only from the speakers but were heard on all sides among the hundreds of people who were present.

The massive granite block was lowered into its place after the program arranged for the occasion had reached the point where the ceremonies were turned over to the senior class of the Santa Ana High School.

The basement of the administration building has been completed, and the structure upon it has been begun. Up on this flooring seats had been placed and a platform built. Upon the platform were the speakers, members of the school board—W. L. Duggan, Mrs. W. M. Smart, Mrs. J. B. Norman and H. G. Dean—and the architects, Mr. Withey and Mr. Davis of Los Angeles, who designed the splendid polytechnic group.

Following music by the high school band, came the impressive invocation by Rev. Ed. Inwood, pastor of the First Methodist church, and the high school song, led by Malcolm Tedford. "We are all glad to see this large gathering here today," said President Duggan of the school board. "This is an occasion long worked for. We feel our duty as a school board to maintain the very highest efficiency in our schools. The people of this city by voting $200,000 bonds showed that they, too, favored a modern, fully equipped high school. Our contractors, Mr. Condon and Mr. Irvine, are making splendid progress, and we are assured that these buildings will be completed and ready for occupancy next September. Modeled after an ancient Athenian temple, we will have here buildings of a singular beauty, an adornment to our city. This site is ample. It measures 700 feet on Walnut and runs south 1200 feet to Camille street."

A Few Statistics
City Superintendent of Schools J. A. Cranston declared that it is time for everybody to wear a good-sized smile, a smile that won't wear off. "Let us rejoice together," said he, "for today is a red letter day in Santa Ana's history. When the present high school building was put up in 1900 we had 249 pupils. Some thought that building was extravagant, but within nine years its capacity was exceeded. In 1909 when the Commercial High School was built the high school had 347 pupils. Today we have 715. The school has doubled in four years, and today its enrollment is greater than the high schools of Pomona, Redlands or Riverside. In 1915 we will have over 1000 pupils in our high school.

"This occasion is significant of the abiding faith of this community in its boys and girls. Each year eighty to eighty-five per cent of the grammar school graduates enter the high school, which has become the people's college. These buildings mean greater opportunities for our grammar schools, for it is our plan to use the present high school buildings for an intermediate school.

"With this splendid site of twenty-three acres, we have room to grow, and we will continue to grow and build new buildings.

"The best education is the kind that trains the heart, the head and the hand. The best is none too good for the boys and girls of Santa Ana that they may develop into the highest type of American citizenship."

Describes Buildings
E. H. McMath, principal of the high school, extended greetings. "This is the first cornerstone," said he, "Each pupil will build hereafter on this spot cornerstones of useful lives and character."

The speaker briefly described the three buildings. The administration building will contain offices, a study room and fifteen class rooms. To the east is the manual arts building. On the ground floor will be shops, upstairs the commercial department. To the west is the Fine Arts building. On the ground floor will be the chemistry, botany, agricultural and other science departments, and upstairs will be domestic science, millinery and other departments destined for the girls.

"Here we will have a real, representative high school," said he, "one that will have all the departments needed. I congratulate the young people upon their opportunities. I congratulate the people of Santa Ana upon their faith and belief in the young people of today."

After two excellent selections by a high school quartet, John Willis Baer, president of Occidental College, was introduced.

"Some Things Not Found in the Curriculum" was the subject of the visiting educator's splendid address. "Character is caught, not taught," said he in opening his talk. "Santa Ana should be proud of her buildings, but the most important part of its life is its boys and girls. The boys and girls are important because they are boys and girls. Santa Ana will send many pupils away to college, but

SALARY BILL OUTLINE GIVEN

Many Changes From Present Schedule in Bill Legislators Are Putting Through

RECORDER GOES OFF SALARY-FEE BASIS

Several Principals Have Salaries Lowered With New Deputies Provided

By the provisions of the new county government act as it is being put through the legislature by State Senator Anderson and Assemblyman Weisel provides for several radical changes in the method of compensation of county officials. County Recorder Peters will be taken off a salary and fee basis and put on a straight salary of $2200 a year. County Clerk Williams, Sheriff Riddock and Assessor Sleeper are put on lower salaries with provisions that hereafter they need not expect to pay from their salaries anything for the running of their offices. Stock Inspector Closson will be put on a $900 salary instead of a $1500 salary. Assessor Sleeper will have a fund set apart for his field deputies that he may use in hiring any number of field deputies at the time he thinks most desirable, instead of having a set number that must be used during a period of four months.

In 1915 the salary of the treasurer will be raised from $1500 to $2000. The salary of Auditor Lester, according to Anderson's amendment, will be cut from $2000 to $1800 now, to be raised back to $2000 in 1915.

The assessor's salary was finally fixed at $3000 instead of $2500, with not over $500 for traveling expenses.

Additional deputies are allowed in the offices of the clerk, district attorney and sheriff.

Assemblyman Weisel's amended bill has gone to the county government committee. Senator Anderson has sent his bill to committee with several amendments to Weisel's bill. The chief amendments are: Reducing the salary of the auditor from $2000 to $1800; raising the amount the tax collector may expend for office help from $1500 to $1700; striking out a section that stated that the bill shall go into effect in January, 1915, the effect of this being evidently to have the bill go into effect ninety days after the adjournment of the legislature. Anderson's amendments may be accepted immediately by Weisel, and it is possible that the bill is up for passage today in both houses. Weisel has agreed to Anderson's amendment in Lamb's case. How he stands on the others has not been learned here.

The following outline, showing a comparison of the present compensation with that proposed, has been made by using Weisel's bill. The figures in the case of the auditor and tax collector may be finally changed in accordance with Anderson's amendments.

Changes Indicated

SLINGSBY CASE IS THROWN OUT COURT

Judge Dunne Declares Birth Certificate Is Not Public Instrument

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—By throwing the case out of court in sustaining the demurrer of the defense that no public offense was committed, Superior Judge Dunne today has brought to an abrupt close the trial of Dr. W. W. Fraser, of Weaverville, Cal., who was charged with effecting the substitution of a living baby for the stillborn son of Lieut. Charles Henry Slingsby, heir to vast British estates. The court's order gave Dr. Fraser his freedom. The court quoted authorities to show that a birth certificate is not a public instrument, contrary to the opinion of several prominent lawyers here. It was claimed, that the physician substituted for the dead baby the child of Lillian Anderson, a Weaverville high school girl.

GREAT SUFFRAGE PARADE IN NEW YORK

Thousands of Men and Women in Line on Fifth Avenue—Today's March Inspiring

HAD BEEN PRECEDED BY MANY STIRRING EVENTS

"Washing Bee" April 28, and Col. Roosevelt's Speech Last Night All Helped

NEW YORK, May 2.—Wearing 42 cent hand made hats—at least all the faithful wore the 42 cent brand—several thousand men and women today paraded Fifth avenue in the greatest and most inspiring woman suffrage procession New York has yet witnessed. In many respects the parade was one of the most impressive demonstrations in the history of the recent campaign for votes for women.

Today's parade was the culmination of a series of events which had been planned to give the demonstration as much publicity as possible. On April 28, the suffragettes held their famous "washing bee," at which scores of women who paraded today "did the Monday washing" in their best clothes just to show the men that women who want votes for women know as much about housework, and especially about clothes washing, as do those who don't want votes. Then came the great mass meeting of May 2 at the Metropolitan Opera House, where Colonel Roosevelt spoke, and a spectacular program of barefoot dancing by men and women was given.

At the pageant "one beautiful woman from each state and from Alaska and a beautiful man to match" participated. All wore flowing Greek robes. These men and women, in classic costumes, were featured in today's monster parade, which was witnessed by many thousands who packed the pavements along Fifth avenue for miles. Some of the paraders rode in carriages. Some were a-horseback, but the great majority walked.

Opportunity Is Ever Present

In a sense every man regards New Year's day as a new beginning in his life. But every day, every hour, holds this opportunity for every man; namely, that if he has failed up to that moment he may at that moment begin anew. The opportunity to resolve to begin anew is present. How to begin may not be apparent, but rest assured that to every man and woman resolved to do his best, opportunity will come. Perhaps it will come all the quicker if sought. There is no greater untruth lying around as a stumbling stone in the world today than the statement that opportunity comes but once.

Of course opportunity for material success—money opportunity—is not the highest form of opportunity, but it is a mighty good opportunity to embrace. Save your money, open an account with this bank and be ready for any and every opportunity that comes your way.

SHORTAGE IS FALLING OFF

Orange Shipments From Fullerton Are Far Above Expectations

FULLERTON, May 2.—After the cold snap of this season some local orange growers estimated that there would be a falling off of at least 75 per cent of orange shipments from Fullerton, while the largest grower, C. C. Chapman, declared he did not believe there would be a shortage of more than 10 per cent on account of the cold weather.

From January 1, 1912, to April 30, 237 carloads of oranges were shipped from Fullerton, while the output for the same period last year was 281 cars. This shows a shortage of only 15 per cent as compared with last year. Local fruit men claim that no section in Southern California can make a better showing.

From September 1, 1912, to April 30, the output from the Fullerton depot was 928 cars for this season, while the output for the same period last season was 1125 cars. Prices are also much better than at this time last year. A carload of the Colombe brand St. Michaels, shipped from this district, sold in Philadelphia yesterday for $4.25 a box.

Mrs. Helen M. Cusick, wife of Morris Cusick, died here yesterday. She was one of the best known residents of the Fullerton and La Habra sections, having resided here for many years. The funeral was held from the family residence at No. 215 East Americe avenue this morning.

INTO A GULCH THIRTY FEET

Fullerton News: Dr. Edgar C. Howell and sister, Miss Lillian, had a narrow escape from serious and probably fatal injuries Sunday night when their automobile went into a canyon along a hillside between Brea and Glinda, six miles north of this city. Three of Dr. Howell's ribs were broken and he was severely shaken up, while the young lady escaped unhurt.

Dr. Howell was on a professional trip and his sister was accompanying him. They were mounting a steep roadway along one side of which runs a deep canyon, and here the machine stuck, refusing to go further. The doctor decided to back up for a run, but by a fortunate precaution Miss Howell first left the car. In making his maneuvers Dr. Howell lost control and car and driver went over the precipice, into the gulch thirty feet below.

The machine made three complete revolutions, landing on its stern end at the bottom of the canyon. The driver escaped from the machine on its first aerial circuit, but he knows not how. However, he doubtless owes his life to the fact that he escaped going to the bottom with the wreckage.

It was some time before Dr. Howell realized that he was injured, but an examination showed that he had sustained a fracture of three ribs.

The passengers of the wrecked car had not long to wait for assistance. L. Choat of the Brea garage came along in his car and brought them to this city.

The scene of the Howell accident is near the place where W. J. Bertrand met his death on the 31st of January and Choat was the first person to arrive on the scene after that accident. Bertrand was a real estate dealer of Los Angeles and was showing a party of clients over the country. They were descending the hill when their machine left the road. Bertrand was killed almost instantly and each of the other passengers received injuries, but none fatal.

WANT PARKER ON THE BOARD

Pacific Telephone Co. Going to Establish a Central at Placentia

FULLERTON, May 2.—A strong petition to the supervisors has been signed asking for the appointment of J. R. Parker, principal of the Fullerton Grammar school, as a member of the county board of education to succeed J. F. Walker of Anaheim, whose term has expired.

Work has been started by Contractor Frank Benchley on a $3000 residence for B. A. Fuller in the Gregory subdivision on North Spadra street.

The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company has received permission from the State Railroad commission to establish an exchange at Placentia. Construction work will begin as soon as the necessary material can be placed on the ground. A runaway youngster named Evans, having escaped from the detention home in Los Angeles, was arrested in Fullerton by Marshall French, who took him back to the city and turned him over to the proper authorities.

Glenn E. Biles of Pasadena and Elsie F. Williamson of Fullerton, well-known and popular young people were married at the home of the bride in Fullerton Wednesday.

DECIDE TO START JUNIOR COLLEGE

Fullerton High School to Give Special Courses For Its Post-Graduates

FULLERTON, May 2.—By a unanimous vote of the Board of Trustees of the Fullerton Union High School, and by the approval of the trustees-elect, it was decided to take advantage of the opportunity to establish post-graduate courses in the high school. Section 1750 of the political code gives this power to the trustees of high schools.

The courses offered are equivalent to the courses offered in the first two years of the university or college courses, and full credit will be given by the university for the work done here, provided it is of the quality to warrant such credit. It is up to the teachers employed and to the trustees who employ them to see that the quality is up to the standard.

This will require three extra teachers for the first year.

Only teachers who have a master's degree will be employed for this work. Such teachers are eligible to teach in colleges.

We will be able to start the courses with an enrollment of about thirty. Most of these would not be able to go to Berkeley or Stanford, or even to a southern college, because of the expense.

The average cost for a student at college is $400 per year. Thirty times four hundred is twelve thousand dollars. The extra expense for the same number for the same year educated at home will be about five thousand dollars.

The details of the courses have not yet been worked out but the following will give the patrons a good idea of what we are planning to do.

A tuition charge to students who do not reside in the high school district will be made $20 per year for each science course and $10 per year for each other course. The usual number of courses is four. A student taking a normal course would thus pay an annual tuition of fifty dollars. The same courses at any one of the southern colleges would cost them ninety dollars.

The Courses Planned

English: Composition, to include journalism, 2 years; American Literature, one year; special fields of English Literature, 1 year.

German: Advanced, Literature and conversation, 2 years.

French: Languages and Literature, or Spanish, Language and Literature, 2 years.

History: Southwestern United States, 1 year.

Constitutional History of England, 1 year.

Economics: Advanced, 1 year.

Mathematics: Plane Analytic Geometry, and Trigonometry, Differential Calculus, Practical work with the transit throughout, 2 years.

Chemistry: Advanced, Qualitative Analysis. The course will treat of the intimate relations of the science of Agriculture, such as soil chemistry, plant growth, soil exhaustion, fertilizers, Chemistry of foods and adulteration, 1 year.

Physics: Mechanics of sound and heat, 1st year. Magnetism, Electricity and Light, 2nd half year.

Continuation of Art work by doing either Applied Arts or other work to be specified later.

FISH AND FROG FARM SOON TO BE

Los Angeles Man Buys Land For That Purpose Near Huntington Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 2.—For breeding fresh water fish and frogs, H. W. Swanson of Los Angeles has just purchased twenty acres of land about a mile from this city, near the sugar factory, and has contracted for digging wells to supply water for forming an artificial lake. The product of the "fish farm" will be sold to Los Angeles hotels. Mr. Swanson intends to make his enterprise one of the show places of this section.

The Sharer Investment company of Los Angeles, selling agents for the properties of the Huntington Beach company in and near this city, reports many acreage sales this week. Sales are also reported by T. B. Talbert company of part interests in the big block of buildings at Ocean and Main street, by Seely & Lavigne and many small city properties and by other agents, showing remarkable activity in real estate in Huntington Beach. The building permits issued here since January 1, this year show an average of two homes a week built since then and there are now eleven residences under contract.

George W. Spencer of Glendale was this week appointed by the city trustees as city engineer and will have charge of the street improvements planned and also act as inspector of the work of building the pier, which is now in progress, under Superintendent Ledbetter of the Mercantile Bridge & Construction company of Los Angeles.

Investment Certificates

Offer Six Per Cent and Safety

The surest way of getting ahead in this world is to invest your savings or surplus funds where they will continuously draw a liberal rate of interest, and where principal and interest are absolutely protected.

"Investment Certificates," as issued by the Guarantee Building & Investment Company, have unique and convenient features not usually found in this class of securities.

These Certificates are issued in any amount, and interest begins from date of issue. The interest rate is 6 per cent, guaranteed; and the interest is payable quarterly. The Company pledges its entire resources as a protection to investors; and both principal and interest may be withdrawn at any time, by giving reasonable notice of such intention.

To persons having funds which they are not prepared to tie up permanently, "Investment Certificates" offer a most profitable and convenient form of security.

The Guarantee Building & Investment Company is incorporated under the laws of the State of California; and is a member of the Los Angeles Realty Board, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and State Realty Federation. Write for instructive pamphlet, "Investment Certificates."

NORTHERN COMPANY BUYS OCEANSIDE WATERFRONT

Big Five Corporation of Los Angeles Adds to Large Beach Holdings

ALSO ACQUIRE BIG RANCH

Plan Subdivision of 500 Acres Into 5, 10 and 20-Acre Tracts

[From the Union.]

OCEANSIDE, May 3.—A $50,000 deal has been closed by the Hayes Land company whereby the Big Five corporation of Los Angeles becomes the owner of ocean front property, the title to which has been vested in the Walker and Enloe interests and including sixty-one lots held by C. J. Walker of Long Beach and seventy-one held by H. L. Enloe and the Ocean-side Development company.

The tract embraces practically all of the beach property bounded on the north by the San Luis Rey river and the South Oceanside lagoon, excepting such scattered lots as have been sold to individual owners and 150 lots in Terrace Annex, about half of which belong to the Hayes Land company. The Big Five corporation already owned considerable frontage at South Oceanside and it is expected that they will either own or control in the immediate future about three miles of beach frontage.

It is announced that the company plans to erect a number of houses on the strand as a preliminary to the development and sale of their property.

Buy 500-Acre Ranch
The corporation has also acquired for a consideration of $25,000 the Herbert Crouch ranch of 500 acres, east of the town, which it proposes to subdivide into 5, 10 and 20-acre tracts and provide water for irrigation.

The sale of the Crouch ranch was made by the Hayes Land company, which reports the following additional sales:

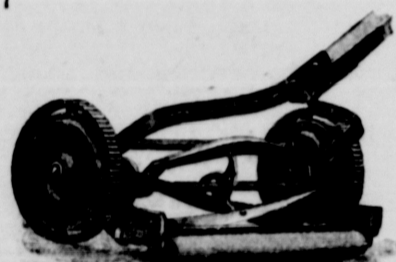

To R. H. Wilson, for David G. Harrington, two lots on the west side of Hill street, improved with a two-story house, between Michigan and Missouri streets.

To H. E. Whittaker for the Ocean-side Development company one lot on Tremont street, between Missouri and Michigan.

To Mrs. Percy Johnson for the same company, lot 4 in the same block.

To Andrew Thill, also for the development company, land at Cleveland

KETTNER CALLING FOR HELP ON TARIFF

Congressman Says Hard Fight Is Being Made in Senate to Put Lemons on Free List—Thinks He Is Entitled to Much Credit.

Redlands Facts: Congressman William Kettner is calling for help in his effort to stem the tide setting in against the citrus fruit tariffs. Mr. Kettner is at his post at Washington and is supported by the remainder of the congressional delegation, and by G. Harold Powell, well known expert and head of the fruit exchange. Evidently Mr. Kettner thinks he should be given further reinforcements. Here is the text of a telegram received from him by N. L. Levering, prominent in the councils of the Democratic party here:

"New York has strong men here who are working among the senators to get citrus fruits on the free list. The bill will pass the house about May 15. We will need help."

"WM. KETTNER."

Evidently the situation is not to the liking of Mr. Kettner, and it would seem that there is grave danger of the senate going further in reducing the tariff than the house has done. At least the importing interests are urging that course, to the utmost of their strength. Here is another telegram that came direct from Congressman Kettner to C. M. Brown, the well known packer and shipper:

"A strong fight is being made to put lemons on the free list through a senate amendment. You could be of great assistance here."

"WM. KETTNER."

The situation seems to be somewhat critical, when Congressman Kettner would cry for help. It has all along been supposed that the senate would at least not move more severe against the tariff duties than the house; that the senate might even raise the duties, if it altered the bill at all. But apparently the importers, who literally never sleep during a tariff campaign, are hot after the senate in an effort to get the duties proposed by the house, a half cent a pound each on oranges and lemons, further reduced—perhaps to have these products placed on the free list.

Mr. Levering turned the telegram he received over to the board of supervisors, and it has been suggested that the board make an appropriation out of its advertising fund to pay the expenses of C. M. Brown to Washington, to assist in the tariff fight, if Mr. Brown can be induced to give the time and effort necessary.

Kettner Aggrieved

WASHINGTON, May 3.—When the Wilson-Underwood bill reaches the stage of a final vote in the house, at least two and probably five of the minority members from the Pacific coast will support it. Kent of California, Independent, and Bryan of Washington, Progressive, have decided that they prefer this bill to the existing Payne-Aldrich law. Probably Nolan of California, Lafferty of Oregon, and Falconer of Washington—all three Progressives—will make the same choice. With them, in the majority, will be California's three Democratic members—Church, Kettner and Baker.

Kettner is aggrieved at remarks which have been published in Southern California, pointing out derisively that he was unable to save the lemon and orange tariff. He proposes to get a certificate from house leaders, showing that it was his plea which saved the half-cent duty which remains, when the committee voted last year to put citrus fruits on the free list. The half cent was saved by a margin of only two votes in committee.

THE EMPTY NEST

New York millinery importers say that the movement started in England to discard the use of feathers on hats, will not get very far in this country. Still they seem somewhat alarmed over it.

One dislikes to be foolishly sentimental. But some facts might as well be faced.

As a whole men are of a coarser type than women. Still there has always prevailed among men sportsmen a feeling against molesting their prey during the mating season. Whether that is a common sense realization that otherwise you can't keep the game covers full, or a rough sort of pity for weaker forms of life, the sentiment is at least creditable.

Among women on the millinery question, the like feeling spreads with difficulty. In the city of London alone in a recent six months, 115,000 heron plumes were sold at auction. The plume hunters, acting as the agents of civilized femininity, do not respect the mating season as does the male sportsman.

Furthermore they select that very season for their work. At that time of the exuberance and high tide of all life, the plume is more brilliant, and the birds are so absorbed in the care of their young, that their natural shyness disappears. They are more readily taken. Each plume means a dead bird and starving little ones.

Much feathered plumage is sold under trade names as artificial, or obtained from domestic fowls. Some of these names are merely tagged on real plumage to make conscientious persons feel comfortable, and many "domestic" feathers probably never saw the inside of a chicken-coop.

To the woman a handsome bird plumage is worn as a mark of happy conformity to a social type. Many observers, however, can't help thinking of the empty nest.

JAPS AND CHINESE

The revival of the Asiatic immigration question brings with it also the revival of a favorite comparison between the Japanese and the Chinese. "The Chinese are honest" is the ordinary remark, "while you cannot trust the Japanese." "We need the Chinese."

The comment is so common that it is worth considering and answering. In the first place it should be remembered that it is an absolute class view. The man who says that "we" need the Chinese means that the employing and land owning class needs them. When Dennis Kearney raised the cry that "the Chinese must go!" he meant that the laboring class did not desire them. In both cases it was a class view.

Let us examine the two statements: It will be conceded by the Japanese themselves that the Chinese are their superiors in business honesty, but the Japanese assert (and the Chinese and the white men unite in failing to comprehend), that business honesty is only one of the qualities that makes up human nature. The principal virtues of the Chinese are business virtues, and the principal faults of the Japanese are business faults. Therefore if we judge them both by their business qualities, we shall be judging the Chinese by their virtues and the Japanese by their faults. Chinese civilization and our civilization are based on contract and Japanese civilization is based on personal loyalty and personal honor. It is difficult for a Japanese to understand how any honorable man should desire to enforce on him a contract whose terms by virtue of changed conditions have become onerous and unjust. It is difficult for a white man or a Chinaman to understand how any man with this view of a contract can be anything less than a dishonest sneak. The two standards of morals are simply incommensurable.

Let it be conceded that "we" need the Chinese—if by "we" we mean the class which would become the aristocracy of California if the labor of California were turned over to a foreign and servile race. If the natural wealth of California was placed here for the sole purpose of making quick money for a comparatively few exploiters of its resources, the best possible way to reach that ideal would be to import unlimited quantities of cheap Chinese labor. There are those who really believe that this is what California was made for. If their assumption is correct, so is their conclusion. But if California was made to support men, and if its destiny is to be a part of the Western and not of the Eastern hemisphere, then the policy of absolute exclusion of the Chinese is a permanent matter of life

Pacific Coast News Letter

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Delegate James Wickersham of Alaska is getting ready for the big fight over his bill providing that $35,000,000 worth of railroads shall be constructed and operated in Alaska by the federal government. Railroad interests appear to have taken alarm at the idea of government operation of the lines. They have been at great pains to discover just how strong is the sentiment for government enterprise of this kind. Just now they are preparing to have the case in favor of private leasing explained to the Territories committee of the senate, at hearings soon to be opened.

"The need for government railroads from the coal fields to tidewater is plain to everyone," says Wickersham. "We must develop that supply of navy coal, so that we shall be able to coal our navy in the Pacific longer than 60 days in case of war. And if the 150 miles of road necessary for the navy's coal supply be run by the government, the lines tributary to this nucleus of the system should also remain in public hands. We should develop the territory by building railroads and by keeping them in control of the nation."

When the Wilson-Underwood bill reaches the stage of a final vote in the house, at least two and probably five of the minority members from the Pacific coast will support it. Kent of California, independent, and Bryan of Washington, Progressive, have decided that they prefer this bill to the existing Payne-Aldrich law. Probably Nolan of California, LaFerty of Oregon, and Falconer of Washington, all three Progressives—will make this their choice. With them, in the majority, will be California's three Democratic members—Church, Kettner and Baker.

WOMEN'S FADS AND FANCIES

By Margaret Mason

Just a bit of chiffon,
Just a bit of taste,
And you have the makings
Of your new spring waist.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The separate waist is becoming a thing of the past. Salome with her seven veils would have had material for a perfect bevy of bouffants cut on 1913 models. The days of the lingerie waist are numbered. You may see a few of handkerchief linen but as for the erstwhile peek-a-boo—well, it hasn't a look-in. Chiffon is the favorite material for the dressy blouse of nowadays, with crepe de chine running it a close second for more tailored ones. Crepe de chine is an acceptable substitute for the less soft and less clinging madras and linen that made up the chiffon waists of yore. It launders beautifully and comes striped in colors as stunning as the most exclusive masculine shirts. One of black and white or navy blue and white stripes will turn you into a veritable "Belle Brummell."

Sans collar is the distinctive feature of the newest blouses and even the severe tailored ones are cut out V shaped in front with a calm contempt for prominent collar bones. White waists of crepe de chine are positively chaste in their spotless purity but in other materials the white bodices are livelier by vivid dashes of color in piping, buttons or embroidery. The yoke has you again by the shoulders, and modified or glorified though it be, it is the same yoke of your first original shirt waist of the vintage of '92.

After you select your Spring wardrobe wisely you will do well to invest in a vest. Whether it be the bona fide masculine tog to wear with your black cutaway coat and shepherd plaid skirt like a regular fellow or merely an almost vest simulated on the front of your natty voile bodice. A chiffon waist of old blue topped with an emerald green vest effect topped with a plumed white chiffon dicky is decidedly smart, while a French batiste blouse embroidered with a la Bulgarian, with insets of Irish croquet and a vest of Indian blue batiste is certainly polyglot enough to be popular with any nationality. This is certainly a lace era and all over lace blouses of baby Irish, valencienne shadow laces or a combination of laces are dainty and important adjuncts to every woman's shirt-waist box.

The long and short of the sleeves question is that you may suit your fancy. With the coming of summer temperature, however, it is safe to say, and death to the civilization of this coast. The exclusion of the Japanese, by our act or that of Japan, is necessary to preserve our racial integrity. The exclusion of the Chinese is necessary to preserve our political integrity and our civilization.—Fresno Republican.

POPE IS TO RECEIVE
TWO CARDINALS TODAY

ROME, May 3.—Pope Pius is most impatient to resume his work and decided to begin his receptions of the cardinals today commencing with Cardinal De Lai, secretary of the Consistorial Congregation, and Cardinal Pompili, vicar general of Rome. The pontiff wishes to discuss with Cardinal De Lai several questions concerning America.

CARNATION STATE FLOWER
INDIANAPOLIS, May 3.—The carnation is the state flower. "On the Banks of the Wabash" the state song, following legislation by the session which has just adjourned.

Kettner is aggrieved at remarks which have been published in Southern California, pointing out derisively that he was unable to save the lemon and orange tariff. He proposes to get a certificate from house leaders, showing that it was his plea which saved the half-cent duty which remains, when the committee voted last year to put citrus fruits on a free list. The half cent was saved by a margin of only two votes in committee.

A whole stack of letters identical in all things but the signatures and the postmark, have tumbled in upon Representative Kent this past week, demanding that he stand by the rural merchants. It appears that a retail trade paper published in Iowa has arranged for the circulation broadcast, by means of commercial travelers, of the blank petitions. They ask that the interstate commerce law be so changed as to allow a tax to be levied against mail order houses, for the upkeep of country roads and bridges. They argue that the little merchant pays the local taxes, and that the mail order house is given an unfair advantage in this respect.

Kent replied to this appeal, saying frankly that he considered the scheme wholly impractical and probably unconstitutional. Mail order houses should be punished for violation of existing laws against fraud, he said, but beyond that point the small merchant would have to develop his own special advantages of personal acquaintance, prompt delivery and adaptation to the community's special needs.

It is thought that the same agency which sent out these blank petitions sent out the petitions of a year ago against the parcels post.

predict that the sleeves will rise with the mercury. So transparent are they any way that you cannot catch much of them nowadays. When you order your gloves be sure to call for a half size larger than you usually wear. You must hobble your other extremities with tight hats and skirts but the hands are to be allowed at large. As if in antithesis to the riot of color in the rest of your toilette, your gloves must be white to be right. However, pale tones of chamolite and champagne are also permissible.

It's rough on the ruff but it must go like the wise jabot. The Robespierre collar and jabot have fallen from grace and the neck, as completely as did the head of the snake when Dame Guillotine was even naughtier than Dame Fashion. Fair necks are now to be finished with simple rolling collars, flat frills of lace caught with a demure bow of picot edge ribbon or flat bib-like plastrons of lace. There seems no abatement in the craze for the picot edge ribbon of old fashioned ilk, and it lends itself most artistically as a shirred trimming or as quaint little flat bows in lieu of buttons down the front of blouses or gowns.

Old fashioned basques and tightly boned peasant bodices are trying mightily hard to squeeze into favor blouse. They may succeed, for some how, perverse woman does not feel she can be quite correctly garbed if she is entirely comfortable. She feels she must suffer to be truly beautiful.

Carried out in flowered silk and edged with narrow picot ribbon with yokes and sleeves of airy chiffon, these tight bodices are certainly adorable enough to tempt most any woman back into her stays to stay. Anyway, they certainly give credence to the idea that the mandate a la mode is to be old fashioned if you wish to be strictly up to date.

And, by the way, the idea of the tight bodice will be reflected this summer at the seashore resorts in startlingly snug bathing suits. The correct bathing suit this summer will be lined with a coarse, strong material which is planned to replace the corset or bust supporter, and the outer material will be literally molded on the lining. The skirt also will be tightly fitted about the hips with the ubiquitous slash, which will be as high as your particular form of modesty will permit. The bloomers beneath, since the slash is made with a purpose in view, will be as tight as tight.

Against Poll Tax.

Dear Editor: Along with these days of taxes and assessments, it seems to me that a few words in regard to the state poll tax would not be amiss.

It is strange that a man should be taxed two dollars a year for being strong and able-bodied, as his Maker intended. That is, a few such men to be taxed, for here lies the apparent injustice. The Assessor can go to the office of a firm, get the names of those employed, and then make the rounds, collecting the stated poll tax from each. They have no recourse. But how about the large per cent who are "out" or "away on a vacation," who have probably never paid poll tax and would laugh at the idea of doing so. And it is these men who would probably never miss the paltry two dollars that is of so much value to the man who usually has to pay it.

Some of our states have abolished the poll tax. Why not California? It would seem that our men folk would have risen up in their might long ago. But it has been left to women to

SCOUTS RESPOND TO NEEDS OF FLOOD SUFFERERS

Members of the Boy Scouts of America throughout the country displayed the principles of true scouting in helping the persons who were afflicted by the recent floods in Ohio and other places along the Ohio river. In hundreds of towns and in many of the big cities boys went out scouting for food and clothing, which they delivered to the relief headquarters for shipment to the flood sufferers.

The Scouts who were most conspicuous, probably, were those in Allegheny county, Pennsylvania. The boys voted to contribute $200 to the sufferers, which they had earned and saved to pay the expenses of their camp this summer. Furthermore, those same Scouts collected 500 pieces of clothing to be sent to the flood district.

The Boy Scouts of Toledo, Ohio, did valiant work as self-appointed collectors of supplies and money contributions for the flood sufferers. The boys donned their scout uniforms.

Reports have reached headquarters of the remarkable work done by John Stone, a member of the Riverdale Boy Scouts. Stone was on an improvised raft. He turned a corner in a flooded street just as Mrs. Charles M. Adams was sinking for the third time. Her husband had tried to save her and twin babies at the same time, but Mrs. Adams had been torn away from him in the swift current. Just then Stone appeared and pulled her on to his raft.

TRIANGLE LEAGUE MEET WILL BE THE BIGGEST TRACK MEET EVER HELD IN ORANGE COUNTY

The Triangle League county track meet Saturday, May 10, will doubtless be the largest track meet ever held in Orange county. This is to be accounted for by the large number of members of this league in the county who have been taking part in the schoolyard athletics promoted by this league. Of the 1800 boys and girls of the grammar schools who have joined this organization, it is safe to say that three-fourths have participated in some of the athletic work already carried on by this league. At the final meet every boy will be given the chance to compete with boys of the same weight class to which he belongs, and each one making the required records in each of his events will receive a bronze button badge. Those falling short of this but making three-fourths of the points will receive a ribbon badge. These will count toward the school championship, badges counting two points and ribbons one. The school winning this championship will receive a beautiful banner.

This meet will be held on the Lincoln athletic grounds in Santa Ana, May 10, beginning at 1 p.m. An exhibition of schoolyard games will be given by selected groups of girls. As the boys are divided into five groups, and each group will be busy most of the time, this will be in reality like a five ring circus. The events for each class and the required records are given as follows:

In the 60 to 80 pound class, 50 yard dash, 8 seconds for badge; 8 3/5 for ribbon; standing broad jump, 5 feet 6 inches, 5 feet for ribbon; running broad jump, 19 feet, 9 feet for ribbon; baseball throw, 120 feet, 96 feet for ribbon.

In the 80 to 95 pound class the required records are as follows, first being for badge and second for ribbon: 75 yard dash, 11 seconds and 11 3/5; standing broad jump, 6 feet, and 5 feet, 3 inches; running broad jump, 11 feet, and 9 feet 7 inches; baseball throw, 150 feet, and 116 feet.

In the 96 to 110 pound class: 100 yard dash, 14, and 14 2/5; standing broad jump, 6 feet 6 inches, and 5 feet 8 inches; running broad jump, 12 feet, and 10 feet 4 inches; baseball throw, 180 feet, and 140 feet; high jump, 3 feet 9 inches, and 3 feet 4 inches.

In the 111 to 125 pound class: 100 yard dash, 13 2/5 and 14 2/5; standing broad jump, 7 feet, and 6 feet 1 inch; running broad jump, 13 feet, and 11 feet 2 inches; high jump, 4 feet, and 3 feet 6 inches; shot put, 27 feet, and 21 feet 6 inches; baseball throw, 194 feet, and 152 feet.

In the 126 unlimited class: 100 yard dash, 13 seconds and 14 seconds; standing broad jump, 7 feet 6 inches and 6 feet 6 inches; running broad jump, 14 feet, and 12 feet; high jump, 4 feet 3 inches, and 3 feet 8 inches; shot put, 30 feet and 25 feet; baseball throw, 210 feet and 164 feet.

In the morning of this same day the championships in spelling are to be determined, the representatives of the eighth grades to meet in the high school building and those of the seventh grades to meet in the commercial high school, both contests to begin at 10 a.m. A silver cup will be given to the winner of each contest.

A LAND OF OPPORTUNITY

Humboldt County, the least developed in California, presents splendid opportunities to investors and homeseekers. SOCIETY AND CLUBS

Christian Endeavor Social
The Christian Endeavor Social at the Presbyterian church last Wednesday night was quite a notable event for a good many of the young people and also for some of the older ones. The committee in charge had rearranged and decorated the church very attractively with handsome roses and beautiful ferns and by 8 o'clock between eighty and ninety people had gathered there.

The opening prayer was offered by Mr. A. E. Bennett. The program was quite varied and was evidently much appreciated, as almost all of the numbers were encored.

The piano solo by Miss Lola Robinson was enthusiastically received and she was called back for another. Scott Prather's two readings were delivered in his own attractive style which everybody likes so well, and there followed a reading by Miss Stone. By special request Mr. Lloyd Sharp sang two beautiful solos, one an encore, and was accompanied on the piano by Miss Long. James Utt was called back the second time. His recitations caused much merriment and his original style was much applauded. The reading by Miss Culley was just as enthusiastically received and so also the piano duet by Mrs. P. Ebel. Then came little Marjorie Cranston's recitation, which was just as cute as it could be. Miss Runyan's organ reading was enjoyed to the fullest as was the piano solo by Mr. Alderman.

Miss Dorothy Utt gave a reading with her own peculiar grace, and answered to the encore with a very fitting little response. Miss Lida Turner gave two very funny readings at more length. Misses Edith and Eva Stearns rendered two popular duets on the piano. Mrs. P. H. Ebel then read a side-splitting clipping which certainly made everybody laugh, and was followed by Mr. Kendrick's character sketches and drawings which displayed a great deal of dexterity with the crayons. A piano solo by Miss Evangeline Cully ended the program and everybody was asked into the next room and were treated to delicious ice cream and cake. The hour for going home was quite a late one for the Tustin young people.

A Pleasant Evening
Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Smith were greatly surprised the night of April 28 by a number of their friends coming in unexpectedly to spend the evening. The party was planned by their daughter, Miss Blanche Smith. Refreshments of hot chocolate, cake and candy were served and everyone enjoyed the evening very much.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Byron Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Adams, with Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Smith. Miss Irene Griset was Miss Blanche Smith's guest for the evening.

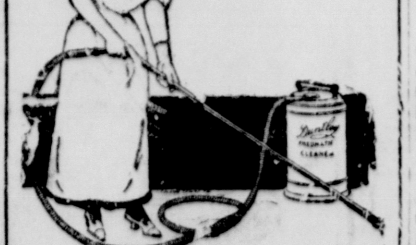

The Friendly Circle
The feminine part of the Friendly Circle put their heads together on Thursday, May Day morning, to arrange for themselves a delightful gathering. In the early afternoon arrangements were completed to give the children of the families a 5 o'clock picnic dinner on the lawn at Mr. Willard's home, which they enjoyed to the fullest extent and all went out joyfully to distribute May baskets. In the dining room a long table had been spread, and the children's dinner being over with, the fathers and mothers sat down to a sumptuous supper at 6 o'clock. It is needless to say the supper was highly enjoyed together. The arrangements had been that all would go in a body to prayer meeting, this date being the birthday of the minister, and his seeing so many coming to prayer meeting would be in the nature of a surprise.

The names of those composing the Friendly Circle are Mr. and Mrs. Willard, Mr. and Mrs. Eells, Mr. and Mrs. Sharpless, Mr. and Mrs. Ebel, Mr. and Mrs. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Martin, Mrs. C. E. Young and Mrs. Martha Martin.

Household Economics Club
The section of Household Economics meeting was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. J. Cranston. Mrs. Cranston and Mrs. Sharpless were hostesses and the other ladies present were Mrs. Nealley, Mrs. Leahy, Mrs. Fred Preble, Mrs. Stanley, Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Rorer and Miss De Long.

The subject for study was "eggs."

and the color scheme was yellow and white. The dainty decorations were yellow pansies and nasturtiums and white roses.

The refreshments were marshmallow pudding served with whipped cream finished with yellow, orange, and in each glass a marshmallow, yellow cake and angel food. There were two tables decorated with pansies.

Those present pronounced the scheme of the afternoon's entertainment the daintiest of all.

Reception for Mrs. King
A most pleasant event in Tustin this week was that of the reception given for Mr. and Mrs. Frederick King at W. L. Shatto's residence. Those present were mostly high school classmates of Mrs. King in Santa Ana. They were of the class of 1901-1902. There was enjoyable music and the singing of old time songs. The refreshments were ice cream and cake.

MISS PHILLIPS ENTERTAINS CLASSMATES AT TUSTIN HOME

Miss R. E. Phillips, who is a pupil of the Cranston School of Expression at Los Angeles, brought her classmates down last Saturday for one of their week-end diversions. They came on the Pacific Electric to the end of the line and there they were met by one of the Tubbs auto trucks, which had been padded and especially arranged for the comfort of the passengers. The ride was planned through Tustin's most slightly streets and they reached, at last, Mrs. A. E. Phillips' beautiful pioneer home. They had come to picnic under the grand old sycamores and among the gorgeous roses of many varied hues.

The school building where these girls are pupils, Cranston Hall, is modeled after Shakespeare's birthplace at Stratford-on-Avon, and is an almost exact reproduction of the old world structure. Its latticed windows, quaint casements and gabled front, partly hidden in ivy, its wide reception hall, low ceiling, heavily paneled wall and hospitable fire place; the beautiful Shakespearean room reproducing as nearly as possible the living room of the Shakespeare house at Stratford, well chosen pictures and statuary, garden and roof garden. These are some of the things with which the girls are surrounded at school. Nevertheless, when they arrived at their destination Saturday they realized that there were other places of ideal beauty and delight to the aesthetic taste in California. There they saw the tall cypress hedge, sheering the orange trees full of fruit and fragrant bloom, the old sycamore trees stretching their branches over canyon-like shadows, the almost endless variety of rose trees and climbing roses and the immense palms.

A sumptuous picnic dinner was spread and those who have seen the Phillips home and surroundings can well imagine the delightfulness of the occasion. One thing that pleased them was that they found so many lovely places in which to have their pictures taken—among the orange trees, under the little palm-thatched pavilion with the tall cypress trees for a background, and many others. Stories around the camp-fire was a feature of the afternoon.

Miss Phillips was assisted by Miss Elizabeth Paine and Mr. Robert Paine of Santa Ana, in entertaining her friends. At 5 o'clock the girls were conveyed back to the car through an entirely different route, thus giving them a view of just as many of Tustin's handsome trees and streets as possible. They also made a visit to the Madame Modjeska home.

They went back perfectly delighted and full of enthusiasm over Tustin.

One of the young ladies, Miss Gore of San Dimas, remained over Sunday with Miss Phillips.

CHURCH NOTICES

Regular services will be held in the Presbyterian church. Services at 11 a. m., conducted by the pastor. Christian Endeavor meeting at 6:30, followed by evening sermon.

At the Advent Christian Church
Sunday school, 10 a. m.; preaching, 11 a. m. Subject: "A Trip to Jerusalem." Communion service will follow the sermon. Social service, 7 p. m.; preaching, 8 p. m. Subject: "Increase of Knowledge." Prayer meeting, 8 p. m. Wednesday.

You are cordially invited to our services.—R. B. Shannon, pastor.

The new baptistry in the Advent Christian church, which has been in course of construction for the past two weeks, is now completed. It is built of concrete and has an opening in the platform just back of the preacher's desk, which makes it very accessible for its purpose. The platform has also been enlarged, giving a seating capacity for the choir, thus giving an added curve, which is pleasing to the sight as well as convenient and comfortable. When completed with a brown velvet curtain matching the tints on the wall will be quite an addition to the interior of the church.

TUSTIN PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thomas have returned to Tustin after their several months' stay at Brawley.

Mr. and Mrs. Diffendaffer and daughter, Miss Laura, formerly of Tustin, now of Long Beach, motored through Wednesday and stopped to see some friends.

Mrs. George Prather spent the week end at Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Artz took an automobile trip through the Santa Ana canyon to Riverside and through Perris to Hemet last Monday, returning Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Hugh McDonald has gone to Imperial Valley in the interests of her husband's estate. She expects to return in a few days.

Mrs. E. M. Lawrence and her son, Mr. Ad Lawrence, will move in a short time to the Browning ranch out in the Red Hill district.

Mr. Frank Holman, who has been quite ill, is very much better and able to be out.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick King will go to Redlands today for a month's stay.

Mrs. J. W. Weislogle spent Wednesday and Thursday in Los Angeles. Miss Inez Phinney will go next Monday to spend several months at Heber, Cal., the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle, formerly of Tustin.

Mrs. Tinsley, Miss Williams, Miss White and Miss Stevens composed a party of ladies who spent Wednesday and Thursday at Newport Beach. Mr. Harry Cordes of Seymour, Ind., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. Rorer.

On the occasion of his birthday Thursday, Rev. E. W. Blew, with his family, motored to Trabuco canyon. Mrs. Julia Griset and Miss Ruth Morgan were also of the party.

Mrs. R. Rorer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beckman and Miss Norma Beckman will spend Friday and Saturday in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Goddard now of Long Beach, recently of Harrodsburg, Ky., visited Mr. and Mrs. George Prather last Sunday.

A Fire in Tustin
A disastrous fire consumed the home belonging to Peter Chumil located on Holt avenue, near Seventeenth street, early Tuesday morning. The house was occupied by Peter Robinson, his wife and two daughters. Mrs. Robinson was the first to discover the fire while still in bed in the front part of the house. She suddenly heard the crackling of flames and perceived the odor of smoke. Mr. Robinson arose as usual at about 5 o'clock, lighted the gasoline stove and went out to feed the horses. It is not known how the fire was caused, as no noise of an explosion was heard. When it was discovered the whole house was filled with smoke and flames and burned so rapidly that there was no chance to save anything.

It is estimated that the house was worth $1000. Mr. Peter Chumil of Smetzer was the owner. The furniture, including a piano, belonged to Mr. Robinson, who occupied the house.

Bean Planting
Bean planting has commenced in earnest on the San Joaquin ranch. Although the rain for which the bean growers have been hoping has not arrived, they say there are indications of moisture enough in the ground to germinate the seed. The acreage planted to lima beans on the San Joaquin ranch is said to be the largest in one holding in the world. The conditions for bean growing are plenty of cool weather and foggy mornings, especially in certain stages of growth.

Death of Hugh McDonald
The death of Mr. Hugh M. McDonald last Friday morning was unexpected and much regretted by his large circle of friends. Mr. McDonald was an extensive bean grower, both in Imperial county and on the San Joaquin ranch. He leaves a considerable estate in farm leases and personal property. He is survived by his wife and six children.

"Always Air"

ALWAYS AIR is a fluid compound, a small quantity of which, when placed in the inner tube of a pneumatic tire will instantly, automatically and permanently stop all punctures from the smallest to the size of a 20 penny spike.

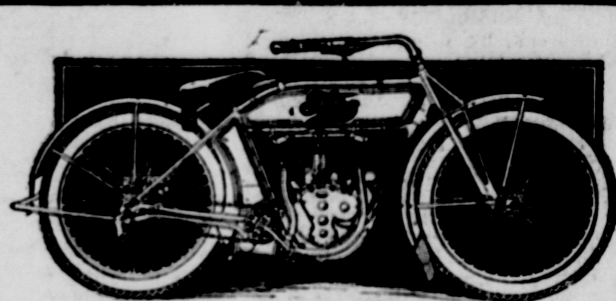

IT IS NOT A TIRE FILLER

It is not only inexpensive but adds 50 per cent. to the service of tires. It will not injure rubber. It is not affected in its operation by heat or cold. It will not harden, gum, dry up or deteriorate. It will not stick the inner tube to the casing. It cannot come into contact with the casing. It can be changed from one tube to another. It will last for years. It adds practically no weight to the tire (only about three pounds to the largest tire.) It fills only a small portion of the inner tube, and the pneumatic quality of the tire is retained.

After picking up a nail in the road, you will always run at least a block and generally a much longer distance on a flat tire. This shortens the life of the casing at least 50 per cent, sometimes ruins it immediately. After having tires treated with our fluid you may remove nails at once or never remove them, and in either case there is no leakage of air.

Springtime!

In the upper Yucaipa Valley brings millions of apple and cherry blossoms, promise of a big crop this year. On account of the 3000 foot altitude the Yucaipa spring comes a few weeks later than in the low lands, and this prevents all damage from late frosts. There are no crop failures in Yucaipa. Even this year you may see the finest barley in Southern California in the upper valley. The eight hundred acres of trees set this spring are already putting forth and the three-year-old trees are full of blossoms. Now is a good time to see this evergreen valley, and the finest development in Southern California and the best opportunity to make money. The very finest kind of land, under irrigation, sold on easy terms, with domestic and irrigating water, and electricity right on the spot, in a fast growing, up-to-date community, at astonishingly low price per acre. And the climate, cool in summer, warm in winter, no destructive winds, no fogs, protected from desert winds by the high San Bernardino mountains. Fine nearby market for all products. Churches, schools, library, newspaper, electric light, good roads, hotel, stores, free delivery, water works, telephones, and automobile service all over the valley. Go up and put in a surface crop this season. We make trips every week, by automobile, or rail road. One day trips and you see it all. Only 64 miles from Santa Ana. Call us up on the phone and arrange to go. 970W.

A few blackberries have been received the last few days and have sold about 10 cents a box, but it is rather early for this berry. Strawberries met with a good demand yesterday about 5 to 6 cents for fancy stock. Some sold as high as 11 cents a basket. The crop is large in the vicinity of Los Angeles and receipts maintain a good average. Cherries are more in evidence, although generally the quality is not up to the standard it reaches later in the season. The price was 12½ cents a pound in some instances, considerably lower than the opening selling rate. Loquats continue fairly plentiful.

The supply of wax beans has improved to such an extent the prices are down to about a 12½-cent per pound basis. Some bell peppers from the southern states sold as low as 10 cents a pound, but were not up to standard. The best peppers brought about 25 cents a pound. Onions continued plentiful. Asparagus and artichokes were in good supply but have not changed materially in price. The artichoke market is rather weak. Northern cabbage was again received. Local stock is also coming in.

There was no change in the price of butter or eggs yesterday, and the market showed comparatively little activity. Local cheese was steady, with an inclination toward firmness. Eastern cheese was a shade easier.

A REAL SACRIFICE
A non-resident owner whose business interests are in Los Angeles, has authorized us to dispose of his well little residence in Santa Ana, at a price that will move it within ten days. It consists of a dandy new, strictly modern bungalow of the Swiss chalet style, with five rooms finished in artistic panel work throughout. Located on the clean side of good street, about ten minutes walk from business center, and one block from electric car line. The house is completely equipped with brand new furniture in weathered oak to match interior wood work. High grade rugs and floor coverings complete this genuine bargain and makes it sound like a $4000 proposition. But listen! We can deliver this bargain for $2250 NOW and if you can produce $700 you may move in and have time on the balance. Don't you think it's up to you to get busy? NOW is the time.

BROKEN JAW IS MENDING

Motorcyclist Who Was Injured
Is Getting Along Nicely;
Orange News Notes

ORANGE, May 3.—Job Nichols, who was badly hurt when his motor-cycle smashed into a telephone pole, Thursday morning is doing as well as can be expected. His broken jaw is mending nicely but there is some fear of more complicated injuries that may prove dangerous. It will take some time to determine just how badly injured he is.

Miss Haig of the high school faculty left last evening for an over-Sunday visit at her home in Alhambra.

Dr. A. H. Tyrrell left this morning for a short vacation trip to Mt. Lowe. Marion Spillers, the young man who was so badly cut and bruised in an automobile accident Thursday evening, is recovering. His injuries, it is believed, will not prove serious as the young man is able to be out and around.

Miss Lenore Rose left this morning for Covina, where she will spend today and tomorrow with her parents.

Fred Kelly came home last night to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kelly, at El Modena.

The death of Mrs. Maggie Morrow Boden occurred at 11:40 a. m. yesterday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Morrow, at Villa Park.

Mrs. Boden has resided in this vicinity the greater part of her life, and will be greatly missed by many friends. Death was due to a complication of diseases. She leaves two small daughters.

Mrs. Guy Metcalf left yesterday for her home in Redlands, after a visit with relatives here.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church held its regular monthly social and business meeting at the Haynes Hotel last evening. Forty-two members enjoyed the games which had been arranged. Delicious refreshments closed a very pleasant evening.

Mrs. J. C. Jacobs and son Earl and Mrs. Ira Aschcroft of Prado, are visiting at the D. P. Crawford home in Olive.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON SAYS FIGHT IS OVER

3 o'clock, continuing its deliberations after Bryan departs.

Many senators and assemblymen, especially Democrats, admit the measure amendment draws the measure's teeth. The Democrats urge, however, that it prevents actual ownership of land by Japanese, while it gives those American landholders who have already leased to the Japanese sufficient time to adjust their affairs before more drastic legislation is enacted.

If the legislature two years hence desires to go further,

BILL PASSED SENATE AT LATE HOUR LAST NIGHT

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—Following the passage of the anti-alien land bill, including Boynton's three-year lease amendment, by the senate by a vote of 36 to 2 late last night, assembly leaders deliberated till after daylight on probable action. Many believe the lease amendment draws efficacy from the bill. It was expected this morning that the assembly would act on the bill before night.

Believing the amended anti-alien land bill will pass the assembly substantially as it passed the senate, preparations are being launched by certain business interests to subject it to a referendum vote, thus delaying its operation if approved, until the general election in November, 1914.

This course was not only predicted by senators during last night's debate but was further outlined by telegrams received by the legislators today. Senator Hanford declared:

"Surely the chambers of commerce of the various cities and business interests will invoke the referendum and this would hold up anti-alien legislation until the 1914 elections."

The opponents of the measure hope the clamor for the passage of the bill will be abated during the interval while the proponents of the measure are today pointing out that the intervening year and seven months will offer unlimited opportunity for thousands of Japanese to acquire lands in the interim.

Labor Opposes Amendment
SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Organized labor has passed resolutions condemning the three-year lease amendment to the anti-alien bill. The resolutions declared the amendment makes the bill useless from a labor standpoint.

BILL ALMOST WORTHLESS AS AMENDED—SAYS A. J. MOONEY

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—Secretary A. J. Mooney, of the Building Trades Council, declared that labor here opposed the anti-alien bill as it stands with the three-year lease amendment. "It draws the bill's teeth, and makes it almost worthless," he declares.

MAY DROP CHARGE OF RAISING BILL AGAINST THE TWO

The two Mexicans arrested at Los Alamitos for passing a $1 silver certificate raised to $10 may not be prosecuted. Tomas Gestelum and Albert Garza, the two young Mexicans, were arrested before United States Commissioner Van Dyke in Los Angeles yesterday. Assistant U. S. District Attorney Robinson announced that he was not satisfied of the guilt of the pair and they may be ordered discharged from custody. It appears that the bill was passed on them, and that as soon as they learned it was bad, they returned the charge.

INDICTMENT OF GEORGE H. BIXBY

Millionaire Arrested in White
Slavery Matter—Under
Bail of $10,000

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—George H. Bixby, the Long Beach millionaire, indicted by the grand jury on two counts for contributing to the dependency of minor girls, failed to appear for arraignment. He was represented in court by Oscar Lawler, his attorney, and Monday was set for his preliminary hearing. Lawler is expected then to try to quash the indictments.

Bixby Arrested Last Night

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—George H. Bixby, Long Beach millionaire, and central figure in the investigation of white slavery in Los Angeles, was indicted yesterday by the county grand jury on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of young girls. Two indictments were returned, Irene Marie Brown-Levy, 17 years old, being named as his alleged victim in one and Cleo Barker, 19 years old, in the other.

The grand jury at the same time returned two indictments against Mrs. Josie Rosenberg, alias Emma J. Goodman, charging her with pandering. She is charged with having induced the Brown-Levy and Barker girls to frequent the Jonquil, 807 South Hill street, of which she was proprietress.

Bail was fixed in the Bixby case at $5000 on each indictment and was provided by Joseph Mesmer, a well-known Los Angeles capitalist, and Jewell E. Bixby, a capitalist and cousin of George H. Bixby, shortly after the latter's arrest at his Long Beach home.

The grand jury will continue work for several days. Other indictments are expected. Mrs. Minnie Mullenfield, Sylvia Vail, Earl Turner, all of 720 Fifth street, and Nellie Larimer of the New York hotel at Seventh and Ruth streets, were taken into custody by Detective Boden and booked on suspicion last night.

FOUR AUTOS IN THREE DAYS' RECORD

away it went, leaving the officers who were beside it on bicycles.

Officer Lacy climbed into Walter Collins' machine, and the chase began. The runaways tore south to Walnut, west to Birch, south two blocks, east to Sycamore, south to Fairview, west to Bristol and north on Bristol.

It was a race for keeps. Collins put on all speed. Sometimes he gained, sometimes he lost ground.

The Flanders struck soft road north of Seventeenth street, and Collins and Lacy were less than two blocks behind. Collins dashed through the gravelly bottom of the creek, and close against the willows on the other side was the Flanders abandoned. The four boys were out, and with many acres of dense growth and eucalyptus groves in the vicinity difficulty in getting the runaways was at once encountered. Collins went for help, while Lacy kept on the job.

In a short time several officers, including Under Sheriff Law, Deputies Dean, Clark and Turner, Constable Jackson and City Marshal Jenkinson with a dozen assistants were in the vicinity, scouring the country.

Law, Turner and Dean got their trail south of the creek, and followed it west across the Santa Ana river. They found Arthur Vegely and Victor Walker in a machine, and secured their help. Law buckled his revolver on Vegely and kept his rifle.

The five men were at the Lamb place at Buato station warning the people when the four boys were discovered running across a barley field. Law gave chase one direction, Vegely and Walker another, Turner and Dean another.

From a distance of seventy-five yards Law called the boys to stop. They kept going. He fired a shot into the grass. Instantly young Rubio, a Spanish boy, pulled a revolver and fired straight at Law. Law sent another bullet into the grass, while Vegely opened up with two shots from the revolver. Neither Law nor Vegely tried to hit any of the boys.

The boys threw up their hands and came to Law. Rubio threw his revolver in the barley. One of the others turned over a 22-rifle.

Taken to Jail

The four boys seemed to take the whole thing as a joke, and talked volubly of their experiences. In short, their story is:

Names, Elbert Moore, Fred Rubio, Joseph Fraize and Harold Wilson; homes, Bell. Three days ago they stole an Overland automobile in Los Angeles, rode nearly to San Diego and abandoned it at that place.

Thursday night they stole a Flanders machine in San Diego. Before leaving town they stole an Overland. Evidently the youngsters all wanted a turn driving the car, and with two cars turns came offener. Two boys rode in each machine. Near Encinitas, the Overland was abandoned, and a Studebaker stolen. The Studebaker was run into a ditch along the road, and arrived at Tustin with an axle sprung. It was left at the garage, and the four boys rode to Santa Ana in the Flanders.

The boys had changed the numbers on the cars. The Flanders was numbered 76315. When found in the road across the Santiago creek, it was 56317. That the numbers had been changed was easily detected by the color of the paint. The machine left at Tustin also had its number changed.

The boys give ages ranging from 15 to 18.

MEXICAN REBELS BUY
AEROPLANES FOR WAR

SAN DIEGO, May 3.—The Mexican revolutionists are in the local market for aeroplanes and have bought seven of them for use in warfare, according to an announcement to be made in today's issue of El Clarin del Pacifico, a local publication devoted to news of Mexican affairs. Two of the machines are to be shipped to Guaymas to be used in the attack which is to be made on that city by the anti-Huertas from the state of Sonora.

The purchases have been made by Heriberto Frai, formerly editor of El Correo de la Tarde of Mazatlan, who arrived from Los Angeles and completed a deal with Glenn Curtiss for four machines. Where he got the other three cannot be ascertained, but it is known that the cost of the seven machines was $49,000.

BARRETT MAY BE AT COMPANY REUNION

Louis A. Barrett, formerly of Santa Ana, may be reached by those who are planning the reunion of the members of old Company L, the Company L that was raised into the U. S. Volunteers in 1849. Barrett was a non-com in the company. If possible he will be on hand at the reunion Monday night.

Barrett is now in Southern California. Concerning his forestry work, the Los Angeles Times this morning says:

"L. A. Barrett, chief of the classification projects in the San Francisco land office, will be in Los Angeles today on a tour of inspection. Barrett has in charge the work of classification now going in the national forest in California, having in view the segregation of land available for agricultural purposes. He will visit the scene of the work now going on in what is known as the Cajon project covering the territory from Lytle Creek to Santa Ana. He has already inspected that in Soledad Canyon. The part of the work on the Cajon project in charge of Percy L. Day, will finish there within the next ten days."

Fire; School Burned; Courts
Free Two Women

LONDON, May 3.—The Midland railroad station at Bradford was burned today with a loss of half a million dollars. The new wing of the Ashley school at Aberdeen was burned simultaneously. Suffragettes are blamed for the outrages.

Dismissal of the cases against Misses Annie Kennedy and Flora Drummond have been ordered by the courts.

KNABENSHUE'S DIRIGIBLE WRECKED; HE IS UNHURT

PASADENA, May 3.—Roy Knabenshue today made a graceful flight in his new dirigible, landing at Oak Knoll. He landed in a eucalyptus grove, smashing the craft. Knabenshue himself was unhurt. In a rage he demanded that the dirigible be burned up. The craft, he says, caused the accident. They refused to obey him. He will try a beach flight next week.

REPUBLICANS FIGHT FREE WOOL

Offer Substitute for Wilson-
Underwood Bill in Form of Amendment

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Free wool was the center of today's tariff debate. Representative Underwood was subjected to a severe grilling when the minority continually hurled the question, "Why have you changed front since introducing the bill a year ago providing for a twenty per cent duty on raw wool?" Underwood did not reply. The Democratic insurgents, led by Ashbrook of Oregon, fought free wool.

Underwood urged the members to eliminate all political discussion. The Republicans finally agreed, to offer only one amendment to the wool schedule, and to limit the debate to three and one-half hours. The amendment staggered the Democrats, as it provided a substitute for the entire wool schedule, with duties of eighteen and nineteen cents on raw wool. This was less than the Payne tariff bill, but greater than that of the Underwood bill.

Substitute Rejected.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—By a vote of 192 to 74, the House rejected the Payne substitute for the wool schedule in the Underwood tariff bill. It is now practically certain the schedule will be approved in the original form, providing for free wool.

PACIFIC COAST MILLERS GET LOW RATE TO ORIENT

SEATTLE, May 3.—Oriental freight rates on flour and wheat will be reduced $1.50 per ton from June 1 to Aug. 15 to enable local millers to compete with Australia and other producing centers during the "dull season."

The present rates per ton on wheat and flour from Puget Sound and British Columbia points to Oriental ports range from $4 to $6.

PRODUCE DEALERS WORK PLAN AGAINST
L.A. CURB MARKETS

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—Charges were made today that farmers enroute to the municipal curb markets opening today were met at the suburbs by agents of the produce merchants and their entire wagon loads were bought at good prices. As a result but few ranchers appeared in the markets with produce. Many women coming to the market were unable to buy much. Indignation was expressed and threats were made to bring the matter to the attention of the city council.
